Immigration

Exchange students at Washington University are required to apply for a student visa (J-1) prior to arrival in the USA. Admission to the exchange program is conditional upon receipt of legal status for the duration of the program. Upon successful completion of the application for admission, the Olin Inbound Advisor will work with the Washington University Office of International Student & Scholars to provide documentation necessary in order for the student to apply for a visa, which includes a DS-2019 document. Upon receipt of the DS-2019, student should immediately schedule a visa appointment with the US consulate. Learn about applying for a visa on the U.S. Department of State website https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas.html. See the menu labeled “Study & Exchange” and follow the “Exchange Visitor Visa” link.

Health Insurance

All exchange students are required by Student Health Services (SHS) to complete online forms, including medical & health history, immunizations, and meningitis information. Additionally, Washington University has a mandatory health insurance policy that all students are required to purchase. For more information visit: Olin Business School Incoming Exchange Program
